

Chris Maxwell brings a deep understanding of the healthcare industry to his legal practice, offering informed guidance to providers facing complex regulatory challenges.

Chris advises long-term care and skilled nursing facilities on navigating the complex state and federal administrative procedures. Having served more than 25 years with the U.S. Department of Health & Human Services, Chris has extensive knowledge of both sides of the healthcare regulatory process. His experience allows him to offer clients a unique perspective on the formulation and implementation of regulatory policies, rules, and regulations that impact healthcare providers.

OUTSIDE THE OFFICE

Chris and his wife Stephanie have two children and are hosting two exchange students. Chris enjoys watching hockey and is a Dallas Stars season ticket holder.
